VEGETINE VEGETINE

Reliable Evidence.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—I will most cheerfully add my testimony to the great number you have already received in favor of your great and good medicine, VEGETINE for I do not think enough can be said in its praise for I was troubled over thirty years with that dreadful disease, Catarrh, and had such bad coughing spells that it would seem as though I never could breathe any more and VEGETINE has cured me; and I do feel to thank God all the time that there is so good a medicine as VEGETINE, and I also think it one of the best medicines for coughs and weak, sinking feelings at the stomach, and advise everybody to take the VEGETINE, for I can assure them it is one of the best medicines that ever was.

GENERAL NEWS.

SPECIE PAYMENTS.

A Message from the President on Resumption.

He Thinks the Time Has Already Arrived.

SUGGESTIONS TO CONGRESS ON THE SUBJECT.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.

The following is the president's message on the subject of the resumption of specie payment:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:—

By the act of congress approved January 14, 1874, "to provide for the resumption of specie payments," the 1st of January, 1879, is fixed as the date when such resumption is to begin. It may not be desirable to fix an earlier date when it shall actually become obligatory upon the government to redeem its outstanding legal tender notes in coin on presentation, but it is most certainly desirable, and will prove most beneficial to every pecuniary interest of the country to hasten the day when the paper circulation of the country and the gold coin shall have equal values. At a later day, if currency and coin should retain equal values, it might become advisable to authorize or direct assumption. I believe the time has come when, by a simple act of the legislative branch of the government, this most desirable result can be obtained. I am strengthened in this view by the course trade has taken in the last two years, and by the strength of the credit of the United States at home and abroad. For the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1876, the exports of the U. S. exceeded the imports by $120,213,102, but our exports include $40,569,621 of specie and bullion in excess of the imports of the same commodities. For the six months of the present fiscal year, from July 1, 1866, to January 1, 1877, the

Excess of the Exports Over Imports

amounted to $107,544,869, and the imports of specie and bullion exceeded the exports of the precious metals by $192,149 in the same time. The actual excess of exports over imports for the six months, exclusive of specie and bullion, amounted to $113,737,040, showing for the time being the accumulation of specie and bullion in the country amounting to more than $6,000,000, in addition to the national product of these metals for the same period, a total increase of gold and silver for the six months not far short of $60,000,000. It is very evident that unless this great increase of the precious metals can be utilized at home in such a way as to make it in some manner remunerative to the holders, it must seek a foreign market as surely as would any other product of the soil or manufactory. Any legislation which will keep coin and bullion at home, will, in my judgment, soon bring about practical resumption and will add the coin of the country to the circulating medium, thus securing a healthy "inflation" of a sound currency to the Great Advantage of Every Legitimate Business Interest.

The act to provide for assumption of specie payments authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to issue bonds of either of the descriptions named in the act of Congress approved July 4, 1870, entitled "An act to authorize the refunding of the national debt for not less than par, in gold. With the present value of the 4½ per cent. bonds in the markets of the world, they could be exchanged par for gold, thus strengthening the Treasury to meet final resumption, and to keep the excess of coin over the demand, pending its permanent use, as a circulating medium at home. All that would further be required would be to reduce the volume of legal tender notes in circulation. To accomplish this, I would suggest an act authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue 4 per cent. bonds with 40 years to run before maturity, to be exchanged for legal tender notes, whenever presented in sums of $50 or any multiple thereof, the whole amount of such bonds, however, not to exceed $150,000,000. To increase the home demand for such bonds, I would recommend that they be available for deposit in the United States treasury for banking purposes under the various provisions of law relating to national banks. I would suggest further that the national banks be required to retain a certain per cent. of the coin interest received by them from the bonds deposited with the treasury to secure their circulation. I would also recommend the repeal of the third section of the joint resolution for the issue of silver coin, approved July 22, 1876, limiting the subsidiary coin and fractional currency to $50,000,000.

I am satisfied that if Congress will enact some such law as will accomplish the end suggested, they will give a relief to the country, instant in its effect, and for which they will receive the gratitude of the whole people.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.

Executive Mansion, Feb. 3, 1877.

FROM WASHINGTON.

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.

Only a few Senators were present at 10 o'clock and a recess was taken until 12.

On reassembling, the credentials of Henry G. Davis, Senator from West Virginia, were filed; also, the credentials of Alvin Saunders, of Nebraska.

The Senate discussed the bill for the sale of the Fort Dalles military reservation in Oregon until the expiration of the morning hour, when a brief executive session was held, and the Senate, at 1:30 P. M. took a recess until ten o'clock Monday.

House.

The House went into committee of the whole on the legislative appropriation bill.

Mr. Kehr moved to amend by fixing the salary of the president at $50,000 instead of $25,000, as provided in the bill.

The question being put, no quorum was present, and it was agreed that there should be a vote taken in the House.

The Electoral Commission.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.

Several prominent lawyers who have been comparing notes in regard to what they know of the opinions of the justices of the supreme court in regard to the right of going behind the returns, feel entirely confident that the decision of the commission will be adverse to such a course. There are a good many others who have reached the same conclusion, but their reasons seem to be based mainly upon a belief that since seven members the commission were also authors of the bill under which they are now acting, they will insist that the result shall be reached before the 4th of March, lest then the country shall laugh at them for having devised an impracticable plan. All seem to agree that in case the commission does go behind the returns, it will be impossible to reach any conclusion by the end of the present session. Beside these, there are certainly four more who will also use every effort to reach a decision and declare it in time for an inauguration.

Decision Expected.

Several members of the commission express an opinion that the arguments of Evarts and O'Conor tomorrow will close the open session on Florida. They think the decision on taking evidence will be so sweeping as to make further discussion unnecessary. It is expected, however, that considerable time will be consumed in considering the question in secret session of the commission. The vote on the question when reached will be sent sealed to the acting vice president.

LETTER FROM GOV. WELLS.

He Demands to be Heard.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.

J. Madison Wells submitted to the committee the following letter, today:

The testimony of Joseph H. Maddox having been taken by the committee, in reference to alleged conversations between him and myself, and certain letters having been produced, I must respectfully insist that my testimony in relation to these matters should be taken without delay. I feel that it is due me that what I may desire to say on that subject should be known to the committee immediately, and that the facts should go to the country with those letters. There is nothing in connection with my conduct as a member of the returning board, or as an individual, touching the subject under consideration, which I desire to withhold. On the contrary, I am anxious that the whole of these facts should be known. I also desire to be interrogated in relation to the matter testified to by the witness Littlefield affecting me, and I most respectfully protest against further delay in the matter of my examination.

(Signed) J. MADISON WELLS.

It was decided to examine Wells on Monday.

Outrageous Conduct of Field's Committee.

The conduct of Field's committee in regard to Wells and other members of the returning board excites more and more denunciation each day. Yesterday, at the instance of Field, it was decided in secret session not to grant a demand of Wells to be heard in answer to Maddox and an explanation of the letters the latter had produced. The democrats of the commission went even farther than this and passed a resolution that the fact of their having thus refused Wells should not be entered upon their journal. This commission has also prepared and printed at a private establishment, instead of the government printing office, a compilation of the testimony taken in regard to Florida, making in print about 200 pages, and laid it in this shape before the commission. It is incomplete, and the cross-examination of some of the most important witnesses does not appear. A similar publication in regard to Louisiana is in press, but it will contain nothing but evidence taken against the returning board, nor will it show that the members of the board desired to be heard in their own defence, and were refused.

THE ELECTORAL LAW SUIT.

Opinion of Gov. Hayes.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.

A special from Cincinnati says that Col. F. C. Campbell, a prominent lawyer of this city and a personal friend of Gov. Hayes, visited Columbus, yesterday, and while there had a brief interview with the republican presidential candidate. During the conversation Col. Campbell remarked, "Governor, I suppose you do not care to give any opinion on the presidential question at this time?" Gov. Hayes replied, "Oh, yes; I am stating it in this way. It has now become a law suit and we have a good case, good lawyers and a good court, and good prospects."

THE RECORD OF FIRES.

In Trenton, N. J.—Loss $200,000.

TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 4.

A most destructive fire broke out here at five o'clock this evening, in the sheds of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, containing engines Nos: 679, 608, 683, 919, 762, 674, 796 and 699, all of which were totally destroyed. So rapidly did the flames spread that the watchman barely escaped from the building with his life. The loss on the engines is estimated at $200,000, and on the sheds at $8000. The firemen were promptly called out, but owing to water being so far away they could not save any of the property. One locomotive alone was got from the building. It is not known how the fire originated.

In New York.—Loss $10,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.

About half-past five o'clock, this evening, fire broke out on the first floor of the four-story building, No. 91 Catherine street, occupied as a clothing store by Isadore Cohen, whose stock was damaged to the extent of $10,000. The flames then extended to the upper part of the house, damaging the furniture about $1,000 and building, $2,000. All losses are covered by insurance. A clerk named Jenkins, in Cohen's employ, was arrested on suspicion of setting fire to the premises.

At Bridgeton, Me.—Loss $2,700.

BRIDGETON, Me., Feb. 3.

A building occupied by Jonathan Fogg, as a wood working shop, and E. F. Flagg, leather manufacturer, was burned last night. Loss $2,700; no insurance.

THE EXCAVATIONS IN OLYMPIA.

Professor Curtuis is visiting the excavations in Olympia and Greece, and has written an interesting letter concerning what he has seen. He writes, "All last week (Dec. 14-21) I was a sort of roving pirate in the east and west of Greece; but on Saturday evening I reached Drava, and was received by the inhabitants with the greatest honor. The next morning, after breakfasting, I heard loud shouting in front of the temple, and found that the cause of the joy was the discovery of a manly marble head, badly broken, indeed, but of priceless worth. For although there remained of it only the right side, with forehead, eye, cheek, part of the nose, skull and neck, the fragment showed distinguished workmanship, and revealed for the first time what Paeonios could do in sculpturing a human face. It is a noble ideal head; the line of the nose proceeds straight from the forehead, the eyes open out free and proud: and the low, furrowed brow, together with the group of little wrinkles extending from the corner of the eye toward the temple, indicates mature age. A small band, like a diadem, surrounds the head and forehead, the luxurious hair in some places hiding it, in others, leaving it exposed. This motive reminds one of the well-known head of Dionysius, but is carried out in this instance with greater success. Several little curls on the temple are very artistically done. Under them you see the beginning of the full beard. Over the diadem the skull arches in three flat gradations, and accordingly seems to have been covered with something. One thinks involuntarily of the Oinomaos and his helmet. A regal head-dress is unmistakable: and so Dionysian is the character of the head that one might almost give it the name of the king. Scarcely had we found the bearded head, washed it, and with amazement contemplated it, when a cry of joy from the west front of the temple was heard, and out of the foul mud came another marble head—a well-preserved one of a beardless youth. His face is painfully distorted—his eyes averted, his full lips parted, the corners of his mouth drawn down. Each side is elaborately sculptured, but the right ear is cut with admirable assiduity much deeper than the left. The head is that of a man in a struggle with the centaurs. There is a profound pathos in the countenance, especially in the expression of pain which the artist has seized and portrayed: and for this reason the work is a wonderfully fine companion to the female head of the single gable, which is preserved entire in its matchless beauty, but which is absolutely motionless and emotionless. Did it belong to a human figure, the tumult of a bloody combat would have shown itself in her features. But they are peaceful and passionless. They must, therefore, be those of a goddess."

A PRESCRIPTION FOR RHEUMATISM.

Anxious ever to placed before our readers every item of counsel which may be of service as a remedy or preventive of the numerous "ills which flesh," etc., we have cut the following from a number of Hall's Journal of Health, published awhile since, only slightly modifying the phraseology. The reader is advised to try all the remedies specified, and such faithful performance will not fail of a certain result.

"Sleep with your head toward the north. Wear a chest protector. Take nitrate of potash; nitrate sodium; nux vomica. Sleep with a big dog. Use magnetism; galvanism; bromide of ammonium; iodide of ammonium. Put on mustard plasters; Spanish fly plasters; bromide of potassium; iodide of potassium; lemon juice; sago tea. Wear sulphur in your shoes. Carry a piece of sulphur in your vest pocket. Try hard rubbing; oleate of mercury; common soda; capsicum; Radway's Ready Relief. Wear silk; white flannel; red flannel; buckskin. Take gin and hemlock; Reynold's Specific. Make a necklace of the knots produced by the sting of an insect on golden rod, and wear it next the skin. Exercise and keep it off. Keep as quiet as possible. Take colchicum; morphine; Angel's rheumatic gum; carbolic acid; soft soap bandaged with flannel will do. Do not eat meat; do not eat eggs or potatoes. Eat anything you please. Do not smoke at all; smoke as much as you like. Take camphor. Drink nothing but beer. Do not drink anything but whiskey. Drink no ardent spirits. Keep in the house. Take a ride out whenever you can. Carry a piece of alum in your pocket. Take Turkish baths. Avoid the Turkish bath. De Soto spring water is great. So is acetate of potash, and burdock seed. Bathe in hot water with pearl-ash in it. Bathe in cold water frequently. Do not bathe at all until you are nearly well. Dose catnip tea. Sleep next to flannel. Go to Arkansas Hot Springs. Go to Doolittle Springs, Richfield Springs, Sharon Springs, Hot Sulphur Springs—to Saratoga, to Florida, to Bermuda, to the Sandwich Islands, to California, to the south of France, to Mexico, to the Azores, to South America. Wear a horse-chestnut in your left-hand breeches pocket. Take Constitution Water. Wrap joints with cotton, and cover with oiled silk. Get out on the prairies. High land is best for rheumatism. So is Balm of Life and magnetic salve. Rub with kerosene; mustang liniment. Put on hot poultice. Apply hot mashes. Put mustard poultice over the heart. Drink Friedrichshall bitter water. Put on slippery elm poultice. Electric oil. If all these don't cure, try something else.

LITTLE COMPTON.

FIRE.—A fire was discovered about 10 o'clock Tuesday night on the premises of Edward W. Howland, (better known as the Peter Bailey place), and occupied by a man by the name of John Bone. The fire proved to be in the barn, and had obtained such headway when seen as to be altogether unmanageble. The entire structure was consumed with all its contents, consisting of five cows, one pair of oxen, one horse, several hogs, with a large amount of hay, farming tools, &c. The loss falls very heavily on the tenate, Bone, as none of the property is supposed to be insured.

Colonel Horsley, a New Hampshire democrat, in addressing a crowd of faithful partisans on the present political situation, recently said: "Gentlemen, it is all settled now; Tilden is elected beyond a doubt, and I am going to give an ox for a barbecue. We haven't had so good a chance for a long time. Yes, I'll give the ox and we'll have the barbecue next Friday." "Colonel," shouted one of the most faithful from the middle of the audience, "moight I shpake?" "Yes," said the colonel. "Wouldn't it be betther putting it on Saturday, colonel?" "Why delay it?" inquired the puzzled orator. "Bekase, yer honor, yez spoke of putting it on Friday, and sure you know the boolk of the dimicratic party don't ate mate on Friday."

Bankrupt again. J. B. Ford & Co., Beecher's publishers, will never get over the effects of the great Brooklyn scandal trial. Having failed to carry out the terms of their compromise with their creditors, they have gone into bankruptcy a second time. They now offer thirty cents on a dollar, in sixteen monthly instalments, to their creditors. In the list of assets appears Mr. Beecher's contract to write the "Life of Christ," indorsed "Value uncertain." Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe is one of the largest creditors. That trial knocked a good many things "higher than a kite," and the end is not yet.

The executive board has given its annual attention to the varied interests of the church and society, but there is nothing of special interest for record in this department; in some respects there has been improvement beyond former years.

TO THE ELECTORS OF NEWPORT COUNTY.

WHEREAS, the county of Newport has had no representative in the gubernatorial chair of this state for fifty three years, we, the undersigned, hereby call a meeting of the republicans of this county to be held in the State House, in Newport, on the 7th day of February, 1877, at 8 o'clock, P. M., to adopt such measures as will tend to secure the nomination of the Hon. C. C. Van Zandt, for that position; hereby pledging ourselves to give him all the support that lies in our power.

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 13 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies, and at least one good story, the latest markets, and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains more reading matter than any other paper in the southern part of the state.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. No gratuitous advertising for any object.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, to carrier.

The Newport Journal, $2 per annum, or $1.50 if the whole year is paid for strictly in advance.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is the largest general printing office in the city. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

Probabilities.

For New England, falling barometer, westerly winds, and warmer, clear or hazy weather.

THE DAY.

The ice in Narragansett Bay is now so far gone that sailing vessels are able to reach Providence without difficulty.

The Louisiana question is settled. McCreary has recognized Nicholls. McCreary, it may be well to explain, is Governor of Kentucky.

The decision of the Electoral Commission on the Florida case is expected tomorrow. If, however, it is decided to go behind the returns and admit evidence, a long time will be required before the end is reached.

The Providence Journal in speaking of the movement in Newport in favor of Gen. Van Zandt for governor says that the feeling in other parts of the state is quite in accord with the sentiments expressed in the call which has been published in the Newport papers.

It is reported that an examination of accounts of certain banks of Rome show the present pope to have about $23,000,000 on deposit. Cardinal Antonelli had also several millions gathered from the offerings of the church, every dollar of which was divided by will among his relatives. Many Catholics are quite disturbed by this condition of things which they do not consider entirely satisfactory.

The Philadelphia Times makes a significant commentary on the complaint of certain colored orators that the negroes are not remembered in the distribution of offices in saying: Just as long as the colored voters of Philadelphia are willing to set a price upon their votes, and that price "the emoluments of party" to which they think they are entitled, just so long will they find the party as ready to purchase before election as they are slow to pay after it. The colored man will be looked upon as the "colored voter" until he ceases to be one and becomes somebody instead of nobody, and the independent voter is of no color; he counts just as much whether he is black or white.

Maddox is one of the men that grow upon you. The more you know of him the more you like him. There is nothing mean about Maddox. He is one of your broad-gauge fellows who take big views of things and go in for patriotism, with a proper proportion of profit. His sympathies are with the oppressed, and when he proposed that Tilden should buy Louisiana, he acted, he tells us, "on the broad moral ground" that it was better for the Southern people to buy their rights than to lose them. There is something very noble in this sentiment. It does credit at once to Maddox's head and heart. And to think that his broad, moral mission slipped up after all! If he had only consulted David Dudley Field success would have been more certain. Morrissey virtually admits that he would have gone into the speculation only "private advices" assured him that it was not necessary. He thought the job could be got along with for less money.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

SPRING GOODS.

The new spring woolens are the first importations displayed. These are soft and yielding, and though of pure wool have scarcely more weight than the sheerest cambric. The greater number are self-colored in the small neat figures that have been so fashionable during the winter, such as armures, basket-woven designs, raised checks and bars, stripes with quadrille bars raised upon them, matelasse, and damask figures with open lace-like meshes woven around them. Summer camel's hair, cashmere, and other twilled stuffs are shown, but diagonals are no longer novelties, and the small figures will have the preference. Experienced merchants say that gray will be more worn than it has been since brown replaced it two years ago, and that fawn, steel, and drab shades will be popular; also that the fancy for myrtle green and navy blue will continue, especially when these colors are combined with white in tiny checks smaller than pin heads, and in various Oriental combinations both of figures and colors.

DE BEGES.

De beges are no longer plain or merely twilled, but are imported in the stylish small figures, armures, stripes, checks, and matelassé patterns in shaded gray or brown. Raised irregular squares are seen in de bege stuffs, and the fine cashmere de bege with thick twill is provided in abundance in the blue steel shades that were so difficult to find last summer. These will be chosen for the first spring suits, and will be used as travelling and morning dresses all through the summer.

CHECKS AND STRIPES.

Checked woolens will be worn again, but the best qualities will be finer even than pin-head checks, because these very fine checks can not be copied by domestic manufacturers. These will be chosen in myrtle green and white, ink blue with white, brown on blue, brown with white, gold on brown, and of course black with white. These remain in favor for misses and young girls, and will be displayed in both double and single widths. There are also checked stripes with solid stripes between; thus cardinal checks on blue with solid blue stripes between, or else brown, cardinal, and white are the colors. The armure stripes are also very neat, and there are stripes of two shades of brown or blue, with odd quaint dashes of color in fancy raised threads, making strangely mottled grounds.

KNICKERBOCKER, ETC.

The rough Knickerbocker threads raised above surfaces of another color are shown in various fine woolen stuffs. These come in stripes, bars, and plaids. The grave brown and gray of last season are relieved by fancy threads of cardinal or blue, and sometimes the Knickerbocker effect almost amounts to tufting as it is so thickly woven in. These fancy mélanges are designed more especially for children's clothing. Dark gray mixtures are shown in a variety of fabrics. Black cashmere is imported in large quantities, and promises to remain a standard material; there are also many colored cashmeres.

LAWNS AND ORGANDIES.

Conspicuous among the wash goods are the pretty lawns of a generation ago, with white grounds strewn with sprigged patterns in bright colors, and a colored border for trimming. These were restored to favor last summer, but the supply did not equal the demand, and this year they are largely imported. The borders are in unique designs, some of them representing fringe, and others lace. There are also quaint striped organdies, such as dark blue with red and gold stripes, or else brown grounds with hair stripes of blue, cardinal, or gold. Other organdies have diagonal lines that produce twilled effects. These are pretty in blue and white, red with white, or brown or else gray diagonals on blue ground, and with all these borders are provided; solid-colored borders are seen with many figured patterns. These are to trim the over dress and flounces, and are to be edged with very narrow Smyrna lace.

PERCALE AND CAMBRICS.

The newest percales are in India designs and dark colors like those seen in Cashmere shawls. There are two kinds of percales shown—that with the foulard finish or high glaze, and the Alsace percales, finished like cottons, without glaze, and soft for the needle. The colors are a mixture of indigo blue with cardinal, brown, myrtle green, gold and white. The patterns are palm leaves, arabesques, and stripes so closely twined and intertwined that they are indescribable. Some have the Greek square all over the surface; others have it in stripes alternating with plain stripes; others have hair lines of gold or red on ink blue, or brown, or green; still others have imitations of the basket weaving in stripes, or perhaps lace effects are given. Then there are cretonne designs of small pale blue flowers with woody stems on dark blue grounds, or else cream roses on brown, and with all kinds the borders are provided. The Oriental patterns include Japanese, Turkish, Persian, and India designs, with oddly contrasted colors; their quaint olives and dragon blues are mixed with cardinal, gold and white in tracery that is without beginning or end.

For shirtings are cool and clean-looking white percales, with colored Japanese figures, bias lines, and the very small checks already described in blue, brown, or green; there are also round dots of color as small as the tiny checks, and much neater than the glaring polka dots lately worn. These will also be used for dresses in connection with solid-colored percales with the dull Alsace finish.

HOW TO MAKE PERCALE DRESSES.

Ladies who make up their summer wardrobes in February and March usually begin with wash dresses, leaving their handsomest suits to the last, in order to get the latest fashions, hence novelties for the wash goods are the first to be provided by the importers, and we hasten to record these. There will be both polonaises and basques with over-skirts. Two kinds of percale are required for most suits; one of these is of solid color, the other is in stripes, sprigs, or in India designs with borders. There are long, simply shaped princess polonaises of indigo blue percale, striped with gold and white, worn over a plain blue percale skirt, of which the merest glimpses of its two or three narrow gathered ruffles are shown, as the long polonaise almost covers it. The polonaise has for its only draping two pleats in the middle of the back below the long Marguerite corsage. On its side form, and quite far back, is a large square plain blue pocket, with two ruffles across the top, and a strap of pale blue ribbon tied across the centre and finished with long loops and ends. The striped sleeve has similar trimming for cuffs. The plain blue collar is turned over in English points in front. The buttons down the entire front are blue vegetable ivory, or else smoked pearl, sewed on with eyes. The trimming around the bottom is a bias blue band, piped with gold-color, and finished with cotton fringe of mixed blue, gold and white. A similar suit has a polonaise of brown percale striped with white, and trimmed on the pockets, wrists, and down the entire front with long-looped bows of cardinal ribbon.

Another polonaise, with clinging princesse front, and the back draped and hanging in square tabs, is of India red figures on navy blue ground. There is a plastron of plain blue down the front, and the border is of solid blue. The plain blue percale skirt has three scantily gathered ruffles bound with cardinal red. In the same fashion is a polonaise of wide blue and cream stripes, to which diagonal lines are added; a solid blue border edges the polonaise, and the flounces of the dark blue skirt are bound with pale blue. The collar is standing behind and the deep points turned over in front have the corners rounded.

The basques and over-skirts are of simple shape. The basque is longer in front and back than on the hips, and is very high about the neck. The over-skirt is long and straight in front, and shorter behind. The striped and cretonne percales are pretty for these, and are trimmed with pleatings or gathered ruffles of solid color, headed by wide white Smyrna lace or English embroidery on white muslin. Down the front and on the sides are bows made of the two materials used on the dress.—[Harper's Bazar.

The Maine legislature has just passed a bill legalizing church lotteries. All outside gambling, however, is to be warred upon to the knife. Meddling people will undoubtedly have a good deal to say about consistency.

Out of thirty-two requests for prayer at the Moody and Sankey noon meeting Friday, thirty-one were for the victims of intemperance.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—Henry S. Fearing is in town for a few days.

—The number of ready-made clothing stores is decreasing.

—Four tramps at the station house Saturday and Sunday nights.

—Several landlords have seen the advisability of reducing rents.

—Carry Brothers have received the first Bermuda potatoes of the season.

—Thames street has not been as crowded as it was last Saturday night in a long time.

—Sail vessels can go to Providence and Fall River now without the aid of steam.

—The window in Sturm's restaurant has been set. It cost $83 exclusive of the setting.

—The arrests for drunkenness Saturday were numerous and the cells at the police station were correspondingly full.

—The new lighthouse at Bullock's Point to replace the one which was washed away, will be completed in about two weeks.

—Letters received from Dr. Sands say that he is now in Naples with his family, in greatly improved health, and will return to this city in May.

Officers Albro and Collins have arrested Thomas Quinn for beating his wife, and Officers Chase and Holland arrested Michael Harrington for the same offence.

—The Episcopal churches propose to hold a short daily service for business men, in one of the rooms of the Gas Company's building each day during Lent.

—The low tides of the past week have afforded excellent opportunities for clamming and many who are fond of the sport have done justice to the occasion.

—The Juvenile Opera Troupe is booked for the Opera House. It is from Her Majesty's Opera House in London. The troupe comprises 35 girls and boys and is the only organization of the kind in the world. With original music, elegant costumes &c., they will render the "Fairy and the Cobbler."

—The Zion Church concert takes place at the Opera House this evening. At the request of a number of concert goers, Mr. Whitney has kindly consented to sing during the evening, the popular song "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep." This with the other attractions upon the programme will prove a pleasant entertainment.

BOAT FOUND.—The boat in which W. H. Talbot went out from Conanicut Park has been found on Bailey's shore in Middletown. The stern and sides were badly broken by the ice and high winds. There is now no doubt remaining as to the fate of the occupant at the time the skiff went adrift.

NEWPORT AT THE POULTRY SHOW.—Wm. Barlow of this city takes three first prizes at the R. I. poultry exhibition in Providence, one for best Yellow Ducking Games, one for Red Pile Games, and one for Black Red Games. The second award for this last class was to James H. Hammett, also of Newport. For chicks of this grade the first was to Thomas Aylesworth, also one of our citizens, and the second to Mr. Hammett.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Yesterday was one of those pleasant Sundays when despite the rather bad walking, people love to go to church. Most of the congregations in the city were unusually large, and the services were of more than average interest. Rev. Dr. Stockbridge the well known Baptist scholar and divine supplied the pulpit of the United Congregational Church and Rev. Dr. Malcom was again with his old parish during the day. The holy communion was celebrated in many of the congregations, as is customary on the first Sabbath of the month. In the evening Rev. R. B. Peet preached in Zion Church and Rev. Mr. Magill in Trinity while Rev. M. Van Horne continued his series of discourses on The Temple, at the Union Congregational Church. Three persons were baptized at the chapel of St. John the Evangelist on the Point.

BAD EFFECTS OF LIQUOR.—Saturday night Capt. Coggeshall of the schooner Justice of Narragansett Pier, while under the influence of liquor, fell near Slavin's on Kinsley's wharf and striking on his head was severely cut. He was taken into Slavin's but it was at once seen that no one but an experienced physician could dress his wound. He was accordingly taken to Dr. Mott's office on Pelham street. His head seemed a mass of blood and his clothing was badly stained with it. After some time the artery was found and tied up and the wound was sewed up. It is on the back of his head and it is a wonder that he did not bleed to death. He was shown every attention by Dr. Mott and Officer Albro, who washed the blood off and bandaged his head as neatly as possible and then escorted him to his boat and saw him safe on the deck of his vessel. He promised the physician that he would be on shore Sunday morning to have the wound dressed and to pay him for his trouble, but as he sailed before daylight he did not make his proposed visit. This is gratitude.

LONG EARS.—The veteran correspondent of the Providence Press writing from this city says:

> In the winter of 1863, the writer of this, sitting in a boat in the outer harbor of Newport, heard distinctly an explosion which afterwards proved to have been that of a portable steam boiler on the Fox Point wharf in Providence. The time was about 6.40 in the morning, wind a light breeze from the northwest. He has several times, under similar circumstances, heard the 6 o'clock A. M. gong on the Durfee Mill, Fall River, sometimes with the wind a light breeze from the southwest, which would require the sound to come directly against the wind.

NEW SHOREHAM.

The literary society proves a successful and popular institution affording a good degree of winter amusement and instruction.

Capt. Rose of the mail schooner returned from Newport, after leaving his vessel there, in the Hattie Rebecca which had just landed a cargo of fish. His hand was badly injured and in need of treatment.

The Spring House will be in readiness for summer visitors. Work on the addition is progressing finely as also upon the dwelling house of R. M. Dodge.

Capt. John E. Rose has sold to Frederick Rose twenty-eight shares of the schooner Nathan F. Dixon, which is owned in ninety six shares. Mr. Frederick Rose held twenty four shares prior to the purchase. Reported price of the twenty eight shares, $1000.

One morning about a week ago, in the road near the "Great Pond," not far from what is known as Indian Head Neck, a chasm was found about three feet wide and more than twelve feet in depth. The gap was filled with small stones, but the running water which cut thus deeply has made for itself a channel under the stones, and can be plainly heard flowing below. Many are cautious of crossing the place, being fearful that the stones may be so undermined as to sink if much weight be placed upon them.

TAUNTON.

The Republican says the highway department is now run almost entirely by applicants for aid from the city.

There are about 200 applications for city water, which will make work for a large number of laborers when spring opens.

It is stated on good authority that there are two hundred places in the city, at which liquors are retailed without a license to sell the same.

AT THE UNITARIAN CHURCH.

DEDICATION OF THE NEW ORGAN.—GOOD MUSIC.—A POEM BY C. T. BROOKS.—ADDRESSES BY MRS. E. O. KIMBALL AND OTHERS.

The new organ recently placed in the Unitarian Church in this city, largely by the efforts and through the labors of the ladies of the congregation, was formally dedicated last evening. The number of persons present was large and the services appropriate and interesting.

The organ which proves to be an excellent instrument was made to do its best and those who heard it are satisfied that the investment is a good one for the church and congregation. It was played by T. A. Spencer the regular organist. The choir consisted of Mrs. T. A. Spencer, soprano; Miss H. M. Seatle, contralto; Benj. Easton Jr., tenor; and Charles T. Hopkins, basso. The several pieces were finely executed throughout and in a manner worthy the occasion.

After the organ voluntary and singing, "Softly now the light of day," the Rev. J. C. Kimball read the Scriptures when the choir sung an anthem "Sacred Peace" from Baumbach. This was followed by prayer offered by the pastor, and the organ response and Scripture lesson. Then followed another anthem "Rejoice in the Lord," also from Baumbach.

Mrs. Emily O. Kimball then made the presentation address to the trustees. She happily alluded to the methods and plans adopted by the ladies' society in the prosecution of their work while raising means with which to purchase this noble instrument. The money obtained and expended however did not represent the truest and best work in which they had been engaged. In all their efforts they had worked for Christianity. This was fitting and becoming. The church had done much for woman wherever its influence has been felt especially as Christianity had blossomed and ripened in the Unitarian faith. They had worked and prayed as in every age of the Christian church they had done. They felt it is true, their best efforts were but poor returns for what they had received. The labor by which these ladies had secured this organ had not been drudgery, nor in any sense an unpleasant task. They had cheerfully toiled to add to the attractions of their house of worship and had just put their love and faith, their gratitude and enthusiasm—their religion into the work. And now from Sunday to Sunday as the sweet strains of love and praise, of prayer and aspiration break on the ear and bear the soul up to the celestial courts, she trusted that in them would be felt the pulse of woman's heart.

Hon. Thomas Coggeshall in behalf of the trustees responded with appropriate remarks. He said it was shown by the records of the Church in 1836, that Capt. Borden Ward was authorized to purchase an organ. The funds were mostly raised through the efforts of Mr. John T. Bush who solicited and collected the necessary funds, about $1100. This old organ had done good service and the speaker gave some reminiscences that were in point. Mr. Coggeshall dwelt on the future of the new instrument as it should perform its part in the worship of the congregation, accompanying hymns and leading in the grand anthems; whether in Te Deum or Sanctus, in Jubilate or Benedictus, whether in requiem for the dead or joyful peals in the marriage ceremony, it will aid the worshippers toward a higher life and greater nearness to the Deity. He made some pleasant references to Channing who listened to the music of old ocean and was charmed by its unceasing melody, and said it was certain that much of his magnetism arose from his love of music. He closed by paying a worthy tribute to the ladies who had interested themselves in this good work. The speaker received the organ in behalf of the trustees and took great pleasure in so doing.

Addresses were also delivered by A. P. Baker and W. O. Greene when the choir sung the anthem "Mighty Jehovah" by Bellini.

HYMN.

FOR THE OPENING OF A NEW ORGAN.
[By Rev. C. T. Brooks.]

Eternal One! Around whose throne
Adoring hymns of angels rise,
Thy praises worlds on worlds intone
In silent music through the skies.

Thy temple holds all worlds—all space;
The ocean's roar—the thunder's roll—
The mountain-forest's organ bass—
To worship, call the trembling soul.

O Father! by that tender name,
In home and heart we feel thee near;
Taught by thy Son from Heaven who came,
That every soul to thee is dear.

With organ sweet and choral song,
We, too, O God! would humbly raise
Our grateful tribute 'mid the throng
Of shining ones, that chant thy praise.

With melody divine, O Lord!
Do thou our humble hearts inspire,
That we may be, in sweet accord,
Made one with thy celestial choir.

That all our works, and all our days,
Our every wish and thought may be
A calm, and constant hymn of praise
Heard and accepted, Lord, by thee.

At the conclusion of the hymn Rev. J. C. Kimball made some appropriate remarks, the congregation joined in the grand doxology and the benediction was pronounced. Not a few of the people lingered, however, to listen to the closing organ voluntary, which was the Gloria from Mozart's Twelfth Mass.

The whole affair passed off very pleasantly and the people went to their homes well satisfied with what had been said and done in promoting the interests of the church to which they are attached.

PERSONALS.

......Rev. John S. C. Abbott lies in a very critical condition.

......Garibaldi is seriously ill at his island home in the straits of Bonifacio.

......Little "Toddie," familiar to the readers of "Helen's Babies," died last Tuesday.

......It is reported that a daughter of Rip Van Winkle Jefferson will marry Farjeon, the novelist.

......Johann Strauss is to receive $3200 for his share of conducting at the four balls of the Paris grand opera.

......Nilsson has been giving the opera of "Hamlet" in an odd fashion in Vienna. She sang her part in French, and the other artistes rendered theirs in German.

......Mr. Longfellow and Messrs. J. R. Osgood & Co., have given Mrs. Corinne Young permission to use the name and story of "Evangeline" for her new opera.

......Fred Douglass passed through Kansas City the other day, and the next morning a reporter gave the following information to the world: "Fred Douglass is well known as 'Uncle Tom,' the hero of 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.'"

......During the war Signor Blitz gave 132 free entertainments before 63,000 soldiers, who had congregated in the various hospitals in Philadelphia, besides contributing considerable sums of money in aid of the sick and wounded.

......Sir Edward Thornton sent to the "pound party" in Washington the other night, a pound of silver quarter-dollars. Quantities of useful things were contributed and all are to be given to destitute families.

......A son of the confederate general Forrest, of Fort Pillow infamy, was among a crowd of snow-shovellers at the New York Central Railroad station in Syracuse lately. He was haughty in aspect, and kept aloof from his fellow-shovellers while waiting to be paid.

......M. Amaux, a Parisian artist of some eminence, who twice carried off a medal at the Salon, and was well known as a painter on porcelain, has been convicted of stealing engravings from the National Library. He confessed to having stolen engravings at four different times to the value of $600.

......Mlle. Sarah Felix, the elder sister of Rachael, has recently died at Paris, aged sixty eight years. She had been a moderately successful actress, leaving the stage at last to keep a perfumer's shop, in which she acquired a comfortable independence. She cultivated oysters also, off the Normandy coast, and made a pocketful of money thus. She was as penurious as her famous sister, and it is told of them that when they were in this country the younger and richer sister kindly sold to the older one of her old bonnets for the sum of seventy five cents.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WHAT THE BILIOUS REQUIRE.

Since torpidity of the liver is the chief cause of its disorder, it is evident that what the bilious require is an alterative stimulant which will arouse it to activity, an effect that is followed by the disappearance of the various symptoms indicative of its derangement. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters invariably achieve the primary result mentioned, besides removing the constipation, flatulence, heart-burn, yellowness of the skin and whites of the eyes, pain in the right side and under the right shoulder, nausea, vertigo and sick headache, to which bilious invalids are peculiarly subject. As a remedy for chronic indigestion, mental despondency and nervousness, the Bitters are equally efficacious, and as a renovant of lost vigor, a means of arresting premature decay, and a source of relief from the infirmities to which the gentler sex is peculiarly subject, they may be thoroughly relied upon.

READ AND LEARN FOR YOURSELF.

Many valuable discoveries and much useful knowledge is kept from the world, because of the immense expense making them known to the people. This is not the case with BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. Although but a few years introduced into this country its sale now reaches every town and village in the United States. Its wonderful success in curing consumption, severe coughs, asthma, and all other diseases of the throat and lungs, was first made known by distributing every year, for three years, over 100,000 bottles to the afflicted, free of charge, by druggists. No such a test of merit was ever given before to any other preparation. Could you ask more? Go to your druggist James H. Taylor and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEA WEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS.—These deservedly celebrated and popular medicines have effected a revolution in the healing art, and proved the fallacy of several maxims which have for many years obstructed the progress of medical science. The false supposition that "consumption is incurable" deterred physicians from attempting to find remedies for that disease, and patients afflicted with it reconciled themselves to death without making an effort to escape from a doom which they supposed to be unavoidable. It is now proved, however, that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED, and that it HAS BEEN cured in a very great number of cases (some of them apparently desperate ones) by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone; and in other cases by the same medicine in connection with Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, one or both, according to the requirements of the case.

Dr. Schenck himself, who enjoyed uninterrupted good health for more than forty years, was supposed, at one time to be at the very gate of death, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless, and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and, since his recovery, many thousands similarly affected have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his principal office, corner Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. Schenck's medicines are sold by all druggists.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

It is not for the election
We are writing up this thing;
'Tis not of politicians
We wish to have a fling;
But it is all of painting,
And things that go therewith;
For we—Pro Bono Publico
Have entered into "biz."

Now just give us a trial,
And we'll prove to one and all
That we mean to do things squarely,
In big things and in small.
The "Golden Rule" we hold to
As firmly as a rock;
And in all the work that we perform,
We'll use the best of stock.

Our prices are as reasonable
As any in the city,
And we will do your painting
In a style you'll say is pretty;
And painting up your houses
Is not all that we would do,
For we would glaze and paper them,
And kalsomine them too.

In fact, whatever work you'll have,
That's in the painter's line,
We are ready to do for you
If to us you incline;
And to give good satisfaction
Is consistent with our plan,
And we are bound to give it
To each reasonable man.

STOP AND READ!
WINTER OF
1876 AND 1877.
For sale cheap, as I want to reduce stock.

I HAVE ON HAND and want to sell the following vehicles:
1 extra nice new Two Seated Sleigh made at Albany, lined with crimson plush, with both pole and shafts, just the sleigh to make a Christmas present, and be remembered at every New Year. 2 second hand Two Seated Sleighs, with pole only. 1 Single Sleigh, second hand. 1 second hand Coupe Carryall in good order and just painted, good serviceable storm carriage and cheap. 1 Brewster Carryall. 1 C Spring Top Phaeton Buggy. 1 Brewster Top Buggy. 2 Phaeton Top Buggy. 1 Open Buggy. 1 Two Seated Open Wagon. 4 Express Wagons. 1 nice Dog Cart with reversible seat, pole and shafts, just the carriage to drive four-in-hand to. 1 very nice new Box Top Buggy. 1 very nice new Basket Top Phaeton, will sell a great deal lower now than in the Spring—makes a good close buggy, or a nice summer carriage. 3 second hand Beach Wagons, cheap. 1 second hand Landau, cheap. 3 Barouches in good order and newly painted. 1 Victoria with pole and shafts, cheap if sold now. 1 Covered Wagon, will carry 8 people easy. 1 new Express Wagon, cheap as we are giving up selling express wagons. 1 new Road Wagon, just the thing for business or pleasure. 1 Sargent Top Phaeton Buggy, been used but little. 1 Phaeton Top Buggy, one year's use and that with care. 1 second hand light Dog Cart with shafts. 1 second hand Drag with seat behind, just the thing for a horse team, newly painted and in good order, and several other carriages all of which I shall be glad to sell for cash or paper that will be paid at maturity.

I would say that through the kindness of my friends, I have disposed of about 100 different vehicles the past few years having sold carriages to go to Providence, R. I., Stonington, Ct., Little Rock, Arkansas, Middletown, Portsmouth, Tiverton, Fall River, New Hampshire and various other places, all of which have proved as represented. To those having any House Painting, Graining or any other work, that they want done and are willing to pay a fair price to have the same done in a good and substantial manner, I shall be glad to give estimates, and will warrant all work done by me to be in every respect as represented. I return my thanks for the generous patronage which has been bestowed in the past and asked a continuance in the future. To my very numerous friends who have neglected to settle their bills for work done long ago—if they will now respond by attending to them at once they will confer a great favor, as money is now very useful.

AGRICULTURAL.

FRANCE TO HER FARMERS.—The following is the translation of a notice posted on the walls of the rural schools, and at the entrance of the Government forests in France:

"Department of Agriculture—This notice is placed under the guardianship of the good sense and honesty of the public.

"The hedgehog feeds upon mice and other rodents, on snails and other creatures hurtful to agriculture. Do not injure the hedgehog.

"The toad, the great friend of the farmer, destroys from twenty to thirty insects every hour. Do not kill the toad.

"The mole—He is the destroyer of innumerable insects destructive to plants. Vegetable substances have never been found in his stomach; he does far more good than harm. Do not harm the mole.

"The hanneton (a variety of June bug)—The mortal enemy of agriculture; lays from seventy to eighty eggs. Death to the hanneton.

"Birds—Every province in France loses millions annually through the havoc made by insects, and birds are the only creatures capable of keeping them in check. They are the best friends of the farmer. Children, do not rob the nests of the birds."

RELATION OF THE SOIL TO THE ATMOSPHERE.—When a soil is ploughed or spaded deep, if there is not an excess of water to fill the pores, the friable ground will absorb large quantities of moisture during cool nights and cloudy days. Experiments have shown that five hundred pounds of good, fertile soil taken from various parts of the world and made perfectly dry gained nine pounds in weight in the course of an hour by simple absorption from the atmosphere, and this gain varied with different qualities of earth, in proportion as they were more or less productive. In testing with water, one hundred pounds of pure clay, dried, absorbed seventy pounds of water before any came through so as to drop. A similar weight of clay-loam took in fifty pounds; English chalk, forty-five pounds; loamy soil, forty pounds; calcareous sand, twenty-nine pounds, and dry quartz, twenty-five pounds. The experiment illustrates strikingly the degree of tillage or pulverization requisite in each case as compared with the others. A young sapling planted in earth that had been over-dried, and receiving no other nourishment thereafter than that derived from the air, and an occasional watering, more than quadrupled its weight in a twelvemonth; while the earth in which it grew, having been again dried and weighed, showed a loss of only two pounds—a fact which proves that we are indebted almost solely to the atmosphere even for the solidity of our trees. The same truth in a smaller scale, as well as on the large, is being illustrated every day and all around us, but the principle could be much more effectively utilized in agriculture than it is, and that simply by a more thorough pulverization of the soil. The decomposition of animal and vegetable matter keeps constantly filling the air with fertilizing gases, and perfect tillage is the first step necessary to condense these in the pores of the soil.

PROFIT IN A GOOD SOIL.—A good soil rarely fails, even in a poor season, of returning a paying income for the labor expended on it in the cultivation of any crop adapted to it. The Prairie Farmer says on this point: "The idea that the number of acres in crops indicates the farmer's income must be abandoned, and the number of bushels per acre must be looked for instead. There is certainly less profit in ploughing fifty acres, to raise one thousand bushels of grain, than in ploughing but twenty-five to grow the same amount, and trusting to good seasons for fair crops will not be thought of by the improved farmer. A rich and well-cultivated soil will usually make fair returns in what we call bad or unfavorable seasons. What the farmer on a poor soil would call a good season seldom comes."

INVEST IN REAL ESTATE.

Although an investment in Real Estate may not at once prove lucrative and yield an immediate income to the purchaser, we have found, from many years experience, that all judicious investments made, either in farming lands or suburban property adjoining a growing and prosperous city, invariably result in a fine speculation, or at all events in one that is doubly sure for a good paying investment.

In the products of the soil all wealth has its origin. The industrious farmer must always have a market for his wares. What he has to sell are the absolute necessities of life, and he that does not produce them must obtain them of him who does.

Whatever may be a man's business, however much money he may control, he must look to the tiller of the soil for that which will sustain life. There may be local derangements, but on the whole there is of necessity a market for every important product, and the producer must always be sure of his living, so long, at least, as he is the owner of the land he cultivates. In every department of life foundation fails, the ruin of the superstructure is inevitable.

The possession of Real Estate is a substantial capital. If one's title is good, no thief can steal it; it needs no insurance policy to make it safe; nothing short of an earthquake can swallow it. A good farm or suburban garden, with rich soil, judiciously managed, whether its commercial gold value go up or down, is still the source of good and comfortable living. Whatever else a man may possess, he cannot afford to do without Real Estate sufficient to make himself and family, if he has one, a good home.—[St. Paul Business Reporter.

The "Evangelist" in an article concerning the present judges of the United States supreme court says:

"A curious fact is that of these nine judges, three come from the little state of Connecticut, namely: Chief Justice Waite, and Judges Strong and Field, although they have all wandered away from the home of their childhood, so that one was appointed from Ohio, one from Pennsylvania, and one from California. To make the coincidence more striking still, the chief justice and Judge Field were born, not only in the same state, but in the same county (Middlesex,) within twenty miles of each other and in the same year and the same month, November, 1816—so that they are both now just sixty years old. Chief Justice Waite was born at Lyme, at the mouth of the Connecticut (his father was a judge,) and Judge Field at Haddam, a few miles up the river. Judge Field and Judge Strong were both sons of Congregational ministers, and the fathers and mothers of the two judges were very intimate personal friends half a century ago when the two boys were trotting to school. It is sometimes said that ministers' boys don't turn out well, but they seem to have done pretty well in Connecticut."

STORRS AND BEECHER.

Within a biscuit toss of each other stand the foundations of Plymouth Church and the solid abutments of the Church of the Pilgrims. The pastors are members of the same denomination. Were these churches miles apart and did oceans roll between they could not be more dissimilar. From the commencement of their church life to this hour the two organizations have been unlike, with no desire to approximate. Plymouth Church is the church of the people. The Church of the Pilgrims is the church of the aristocracy. Plymouth Church is as plain as a barn. The Church of the Pilgrims is as gaudy as the Mosque of Omar. Both pastors have a large morning congregation. The masses crowd to hear Beecher at night, while Dr. Storrs preaches to a select handful. Beecher comes into church, rosy, buoyant, exhilarated—shies his soft hat under the chair, kicks off his rubbers, unrobes himself, and without the slightest attempt at private devotion, seizes his hymn book and is prepared for action. Dr. Storrs goes into his robing room, prepares himself for his pulpit, puts on his gown, comes in reverently, walks up the pulpit stairs slowly and solemnly, and maintains an appropriate mannerism throughout all the service. The congregation rise up often, sing many times and adopt a quasi liturgy and responsive service. For twenty five years these two men lived and worked side by side. Saul and Jonathan were not more firmly knit in friendship. Now they would not speak if they should meet on the same footbridge. BURLEIGH.

Ex-Postmaster-General Jewell, who made his fortune in the leather trade, while he was minister to Russia discovered the manner by which the peculiar scent is imparted to Russia leather, the process not being regarded as a secret of the trade in that country. It is done by the use of birch bark tar in dressing the skins, instead of tallow or other grease. The tar costs only about $10 a barrel. Mr. Jewell sent ten barrels of it to various leading manufacturers in this country, with instructions. The result is that "Russia leather" goods are now made in America, and doubtless will soon be sold at nearly fifty per centum below old prices, and may, perhaps, go out of fashion.

Miscellaneous.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience. AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels, and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PREJUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for

"Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup,"

Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

AND ARRANGED CAREFULLY WITH SPECIAL REGARD TO THE WANTS OF READERS IN CITY OR COUNTRY WHO WANT A

GOOD NEWPORT PAPER

BUT WHO DO NOT TAKE A DAILY FROM THIS CITY.

Let the JOURNAL be compared with any other weekly paper published in the south part of the state and its superiority in the quantity and quality of its contents, particularly in its news department, will be at once seen. In it are found every week all the minor matters of local news and reports of entertainments, meetings, celebrations, etc., in Newport and vicinity that in fullness and excellence will compare favorably with reports in Boston and other city papers.

We state not so much an opinion as a fact, that will become apparent to any disinterested person who compares it with other papers, when we say that, for all residents of Newport county and all persons who have moved out of the county but wish to keep posted regarding affairs at their old home the best paper without exception

FOR SALE.—Lots suitable for summer residences at Coddington Point. This is one of the most desirable locations in the vicinity of Newport, and affords views of the city, harbor and bay unsurpassed. The Old Colony Railroad has a station here, so that residents from Boston, Fall River, Taunton and other cities in New England can be landed at their own doors. Very eligible lots can be had at ten cents a foot. A house located a short distance from the station, and having an unobstructed water view will be sold very low. This whole property will, in a few years be worth many times its present value. No other such opportunity for investors of capital is presented in this city. For particulars apply at the DAILY NEWS office.

Testimonials.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the patent office.

EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents."

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, ESQ.—Dear Sir: you procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly,

TO THE LOVERS of STEREOSCOPIC VIEWS.

THE ATTENTION of the public is invited to the following views from negative by J. A. WILLIAMS, which is believed to be the best and largest collection of the gems of Newport scenery ever offered.

The negatives are all carefully taken with the best materials and instruments and aim to present not merely patches of landscapes from points chosen at random as is the case with many others, but, views which shall combine within themselves all the best elements of a picture in the artistic sense.

We would call particular attention to our new cabinet size views taken the present season, 1876, which exhibit with all the fidelity of the stereoscope.

Parties who may wish to make presents to their friends abroad, or to carry home memento of Newport, cannot make a more acceptable choice than by selecting from the many beautiful views of Newport and surroundings.

Interiors and exteriors of houses taken to order. Also parties, horses, &c.
